

THE NEW JERSEY SOCCER GROUP

Press Release

Colonial Stars Continue Excellent Form in NCAA
Morris Plains, NJ--September 18, 2011

The Morris County Colonials' players have settled in nicely to their 2011 NCAA season, with more updates to report from some of New Jersey's most talented soccer players.

No fewer than five players with the Colonials enjoy college football with Concordia Clippers. Dave Mero, Jorge Brohoquis, Marco DiNello, Ekene Okereke and Daniel Espinoza all regularly start for the squad, forming the backbone of a team that surely continues into the summer season as the players seek to hone their skills in preparation for NCAA soccer.

Okereke continues to make headlines with 18 shots, three goals and an assist over just five games, including two unassisted goals against Philadelphia University. His assist came in extremely handy in the match-up against Goldey-Beacom. Mero, DiNello, Espinoza and Brohoquis are undoubtedly keeping their skills honed for the 2012 season with the Colonials.

Jonathan Yazo has been absolutely indispensable to Ramapo College Roadrunners, picking up a whopping six assists and one goal in just three games. He had no fewer than three assists and a goal in a 4-2 win over Farleigh Dickinson University (Florham) Devils - the home to the Colonials in summer - while picking up two assists against Old Westbury and another in a match-up with TCNJ.

Long Island University's Steve Jakubowski managed to grab another goal this season, coming in a 2-1 loss against Colgate. The clinical finish came from a lone shot on goal, highlighting the target man's accuracy when presented with an opportunity. Dan Sauerhoff has continued to work hard at the back for LIU, starting every game so far this season.

To keep track of the team's movements in the off-season, be sure to check back regularly on the Morris County Colonials' website.

The Morris County Colonials are members of the National Premier Soccer League, the highest level of men's amateur soccer in the United States.
